Aon plc

Aon plc (Aon Reed Stenhouse's parent company, is a leading global professional services firm providing a broad range of risk, retirement and health solutions. Our 50,000 colleagues in 120 countries empower results for clients by using proprietary data and analytics to deliver insights that reduce volatility and improve performance.

Why is Aon's PSG the team for you?

Aon is the only insurance broker with a unified global team dedicated solely to providing specialized insurance brokerage and risk advisory services to professional service firms. Aon Risk Solutions' Professional Services Group focuses on the needs of architects, engineers, and a wide variety of other professionals. We think globally, but act on behalf of our clients locally.

Unique and extensive knowledge

- We create innovative, broker-driven insurance solutions tailored to meet the specific needs of our individual clients, rather than accepting "off-the-shelf" products offered by insurance markets.
- We collect superior proprietary risk information that allows us to provide our clients with industry-leading benchmarking data.

Market access and expertise

- We have access to over 25 insurance markets and direct access into Lloyd's of London, compared to other local brokers who access on average less than five insurance markets.
- We have our own exclusive product backed by Lloyd's of London.
- We place CAD 100 million in premium on behalf of Canadian clients, and approximately USD 700 million in premium per annum on a global basis.
- We have more market and rate data than any other broker or insurer.

- Our size and market position, together with our dedicated brokerage specialists, allow us to negotiate proprietary products, enhancing endorsements and manuscript policies to respond to the unique exposures that our clients face.
- We maintain active relationships with insurance company senior management, product line managers, line underwriters, and claims professionals to ensure appropriate points of access for our clients and, more importantly, responsive claims resolution.

Unique Coverage Deductible Infill

All architectural firms have professional liability coverage as a means to prevent bearing the full cost of defending against a negligence claim made by a client and damages awarded in a civil lawsuit. This annual professional policy is the primary way that architectural firms cover their operations. In addition to this, it is common to find both construction firms and prime designers taking out a project-specific professional liability insurance which covers all designers under a shared limit for the term of the project.

As a landscape architect it is important to know how your annual policy will respond in the instance where you are also named as an insured on a project policy. Most annual practice policies in the market currently have an "other insurance" clause built so that your annual policy will only respond once the project-specific policy limits are exhausted. However many architects are not informed that project-specific placements typically start with a base retention of $100,000 and can be as high as $250,000. If you were at fault on this project policy, you would be on the hook for part or the entire retention amount.

Deductible

Aon has recognized this as a potential uninsured exposure to our clients and manuscripted a unique "deductible infill" feature. This feature lies in the exclusive professional liability wording (Linx form) that Aon created. Under the Linx form, should the deductible or self-insured retention under such project insurance be greater than the retention under your annual Linx policy, the insurers shall indemnify you for the difference, subject to the terms and conditions of the policy.
